

Byron is a Special Agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and has worked national security investigations for over 18 years. His current job is to develop security partnerships between the FBI and private industry, academia, and state/local government agencies to better protect the United States against cyber and economic espionage threats. Byron was raised in Wisconsin and received both his undergraduate degree (Russian and International Relations) and law degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.